Close Writing Argumentative Essays Articles Letters and Emails More Links English News Articles Privacy Policy You will need to know the rules for reporting speech (statements and questions) as well as the patterns following reporting verbs (e.g. "apologise for doing something"). If you need more information about these rules, look at my lessons for reported speech, and reporting verbs. "I want to be a doctor," said Tom. → Tom told me (that) he wanted to be a doctor. → Tom said (that) he wanted to be a doctor. "Will you help me," she asked. → She asked (me) if I would help her. → She wondered if I would help her. Note the difference between "say" and "tell". We say something, but we tell someone something. Verbs which are similar to "say" are: mention, explain, point out, agree, promise, threaten, pretend, claim, recommend, suggest, admit, deny, boast, complain, insist, propose, reply Verbs which are similar to "tell" are: promise him, advise him, warn him, remind him Reporting verbs Here are some common reporting verbs with the patterns which follow them. You should learn and remember these. (good luck - there are a lot!!!) I offered to do it (verb + to do) Other similar verbs are agreed, refused, promised, threatened, pretended, and claimed. This pattern is common with verbs which mean "I'll do it!". Here, the person who is speaking does the action. Note that "claimed" is usually used with a perfect infinitive ("He claimed to have lost his phone"). I ordered him to do it (verb + person + to do) Other similar verbs are told, asked, begged, advised, reminded, persuaded, encouraged, warned, and invited. This pattern is common with verbs which mean "You do it!". Here, the person who is listening does the action. Note that "warn" is usually used with a negative. ("I warned him not to go.") I suggested going out for dinner (subject + verb-ing). Other similar verbs are admitted, denied, and recommended. A lot of students make mistakes with suggest and recommend so make sure you learn these. Finally, there are a lot of reporting verbs which use prepositions. Again, you have to remember all these patterns. I blamed him for doing it. I confessed to doing it. I accused him of doing it. I apologised for doing it. I congratulated him on doing it. I insisted on doing it. Practice 1: Key transformations Rewrite each of these sentences so they have the same meaning as the first. Use between 2 and 5 words, and do not change the word in brackets. Part 4: transformations (rephrasing) in PDF B2 USE OF ENGLISH PART 4 In this part of the exam you have six sentences to complete. You need to read the first sentence in each question. From this you need to look at the second sentence and think about what information is missing. You must then complete the second sentence so that it has the same meaning as the first with 2-5 words (NO MORE). Another thing to understand is that you are provided with a word that is exactly the same form (if it is TOLD, you cannot use tell, telling or any variation of the word, ONLY TOLD). Each of the questions is worth 2 points and the points are based on lexical (vocabulary) or structural (grammatical) points. What they assess in this part of the exam are as follows: Rephrasing examples with reported speech: Fill in the gaps with 2-5 words, including the word GIVEN: "Would you be able to wait just a moment?", she asked. MINDS she asked _____ waiting a brief moment. 2. My cousin says he earns about half the salary I earn. TOLD My cousin _____ earned about 50% of my salary. 3.
